

 Payment
Solutions

SCI is now an authorized Sales, Installation, and Support Agent for the IBM Payment Systems organization.

SCI is Now a Sales Agent for IBM

Software Corporation International (SCI) has entered into a definitive agreement with IBM to become a Sales Agent for the IBM Payment Systems organization.

Under the terms of this agreement, SCI will have sales, installation, and support responsibilities for the IBM Payments Group. Specific applications covered in this agreement include:

- Payments Director Business Rules
- Payments Director imageCPCS
- Payments Director Gateway
- Payments Director Image Quality Analysis (IQA)

With SCI's existing expertise and resources, we will be able to provide immediate benefit to IBM and their clients.

Applications Overview

Payments Director Gateway

Ingestion point for the Payments Director System including messaging, file blocking/de-blocking, and protocol support

Payments Director Business Rules

Combined business rules and workflow engine that provides transaction validation and optimal clearing services

Payments Director Transaction Server

Repository for all payment transaction, system command and control, and workflow state information

Payments Director Image Quality Analysis

Functions as a callable API to analyze check image quality for identification of poor quality images

Payments Director imageCPCS (Central Capture)

Image Server, Archive Server, Review and Rescan

Payments Expertise

Payments and payment systems are what our senior-level consultants know best, and the expert services we offer include: PTF upgrades, customized enhancements, consolidations and conversions, mergers and acquisitions, test and quality assurance, operational and systems training, and round-the-clock support.

About Payments Director

The IBM Payments Director suite comprises software and services modules that allow financial institutions to design fully automated, straight-through-processing systems.

It includes components for the entire process of digitizing checks, from capture to exchange to posting, including image exchange, image quality analysis, check-to-ACH-conversion and workflow management.

About SCI

SCI was incorporated in 1990 and is one of the world's largest and most experienced providers of CPCS and imageCPCS expertise and solutions to the financial industry.

Also, within our areas of concentration, which include item processing, image technology, and payment systems, we offer our clients services such as implementation strategies, staffing recommendations, work flow and software design, and documentation.

For more information about SCI or about IBM's Payments Director suite of applications, contact us at 800-772-7044.

Partners in Payments